The NSA scan processed 438 feedback records from experiment "yt new corpus 20". 335 records were classified as SELF (genuine event feedback) — a pass rate of 76%. 41 records were flagged as anomalous (NON_SELF) and 62 fell outside the vocabulary (OOV). Overall health score: 76/100.

ANOMALY SIGNAL

103 records were excluded from sentiment classification (24% of total). The anomaly rate is moderate. Spot-check the excluded records to confirm the NSA is drawing the right boundary.

SENTIMENT DISTRIBUTION

Sentiment was classified across 335 valid records. Positive: 285 (85%), Negative: 44 (13%), Neutral: 6 (2%). The dominant sentiment is positive.

RECOMMENDATION

Sentiment is positive with a moderate anomaly rate. Monitor trends across future events to establish a baseline. No urgent action required, but continue refining the SELF corpus as new feedback arrives.
